

From top left: When a customer comes to a Tinypass protected paywall and they have never paid for the video, they can click on the blue ticket to purchase.

Clockwise: An initial confirmation page pop-up comes up and they click the ticket to acknowledge the pricing. From here, they can select their payment method and enter either credit card information or payment method login information. From here, you will need to confirm your payment information. A receipt will be generated, as well as a confirmation email. Once you close the pop-up, the video page will auto-reload and the video will play.

Counter-clockwise: If the customer has already purchased the video, they will be able to login with their Tinypass account to access the video. This account is auto-generated during the purchasing process. If there is no record of purchase, you will be directed to purchase the video.
